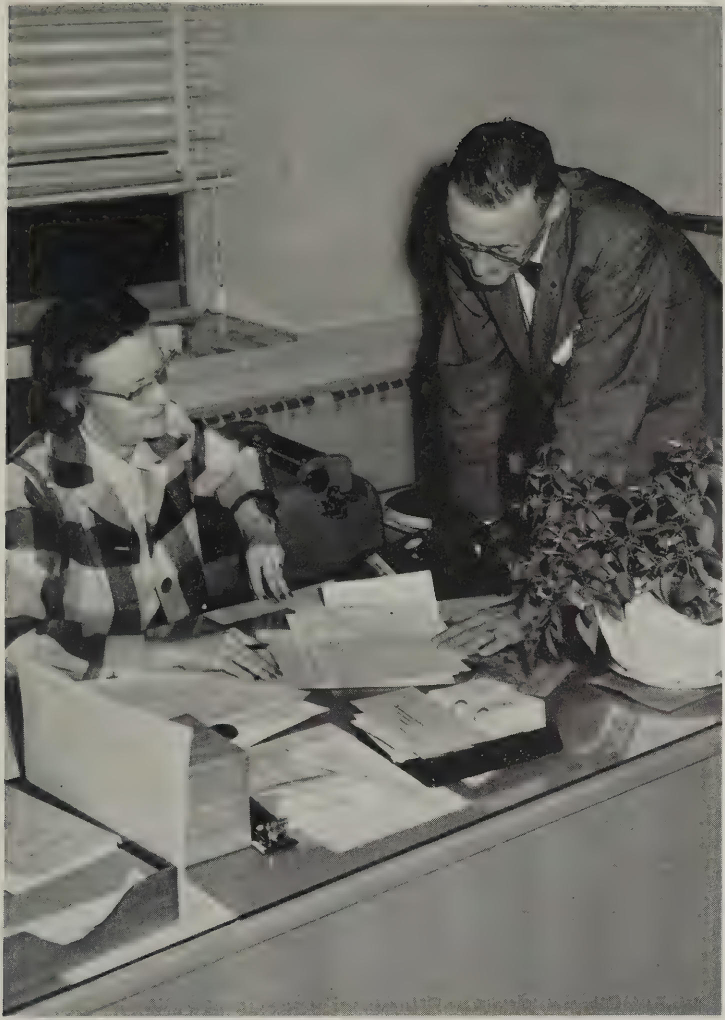
Dr. Fred B. Dixon
Ed.D., U. of Missouri
Principal



Dr. Dixon and Mrs. Oliver, his secretary, prepare a student's transcript.

All college bound students must have an interview with our principal concerning their college plans. Dr. Dixon looks at Diane Bosher's high school record as they discuss her future.

Principal

Since 1946, Dr. Fred B. Dixon, our principal, has been vitally concerned with every phase of school life. Under his able administration, he has given us a school emphasizing modern and efficient methods in education. He recognizes the value of student activities and encourages participation. Students approach him willingly, certain to receive understanding above all else, Dr. Dixon is concerned that we have a "faith in a Divine Providence, able to guide us and sustain us."

Student teachers are introduced to heads of the departments at a meeting conducted by Dr. Dixon.

Oscar H. Parrish
B.S., M.S., University of Richmond

Assistant Principal

Mr. Oscar H. Parrish, as assistant principal of John Marshall, manages the financial affairs of the school and is chairman of the Yearbook Board. He also handles the discipline problems of sophomores and juniors.

In addition Mr. Parrish serves as principal of the John Marshall Evening School, which offers a variety of subjects. High School and college graduates are able to take courses for pleasure and profit. Also, many students who lack only a few credits to graduate may earn their high school diplomas.

Writing a check is Mr. Parrish, who handles the school's finances.

Mr. Parrish and his secretary Mrs. Overton go over a report for evening school.

Miss Keene studies the plan for the organization of the homerooms.

Thelma Beazley Keene
B.A., University of Richmond
M.A., Duke University

The summer school schedule is thoroughly checked by Miss Keene and her secretary Mrs. Culley.

Assistant Principal

Miss Thelma B. Keene, assistant principal of John Marshall, directs the reorganization of the classes each semester and prepares the master schedule. She acts as adviser to the assembly commission and also handles discipline problems of the freshmen.

Miss Keene also has the responsibility of providing the staff and organizing the summer schools in Richmond for grades four through twelve. Classes in typewriting, art, music, industrial arts, reading, and regular academic subjects are offered. Students enroll in summer school for special subjects, remedial work, and acceleration.

Secretaries

Our secretaries perform a wide variety of office jobs, some of which are typing, filing, taking dictation, duplicating, answering telephones, writing letters, making out reports, and greeting visitors. Although each secretary has these general tasks, they also have other specific responsibilities. The secretaries keep the office orderly and represent John Marshall in a courteous and efficient manner.

Counselors

The Guidance Program provides systematic assistance to young people. Its purpose is to help each boy or girl learn to understand himself more thoroughly, make a satisfactory adjustment to his present situation, and plan effectively for his future. It aids administrators, teachers, other staff members, and parents in understanding the needs and problems of pupils.

The face-to-face relationship called counseling is the heart of the Guidance Program. Mrs. Carver advises a junior in making his college plans.

The guidance office has an up-to-date fund of information about the world of work and its changing needs and opportunities. Mrs. Macfarlane shows Janet Nicholson a booklet about occupations.

Nurse

The purpose of the Medical Department is to help students develop physically, mentally, and emotionally. During the school day the nurse gives emergency care to any sick or injured students. Health examinations are given to all athletes, juniors, and new students. Each year the seniors are X-rayed. If defects are found, the students are referred to their own physician, dentist, or clinic.

Each year juniors are given health examinations. Here Mrs. Gordon weighs Sandra Burnette.

Cafeteria

The cafeteria offers many services to its students and faculty. Meals are planned to meet a third or more of the students' daily nutritional requirements. The cafeteria manager and her staff work with the students in their social activities and serve as hostesses for the guests who come to John Marshall.

". . . No, you can't have a roll unless you buy a lunch."

Library aides serve the school daily by checking books and helping students locate specific volumes. Anne Cropp, Georgie Smith, and Jackie Williams process books while Chris Taylor gets extra supplies.

Library

The library supplies the students with books, magazines, and various research materials. Also available are movies, filmstrips, and records which serve both faculty and students in all phases of the instructional program. The librarians, with the help of twenty-three library aides, keep the library running smoothly and instruct the students in the use of its facilities. This is a place for study, relaxation, and the development of an appreciation of literature.

English

In the freshman year literature is organized according to themes and in the sophomore year according to types. Junior students may choose courses emphasizing business English, creative writing, journalism, or modern literature instead of the regular course of American literature. English literature is studied in the senior year. Juniors and seniors may study speech as an elective. A new class in the humanities introduces students to the best in philosophy, art, and music of the past and present.

History

The History Department aims to improve human relationships and develop an understanding of the democratic way of life.

John Marshall offers freshmen a combined course in world history and geography. This makes the study of United States and Virginia history on the eleventh grade level more intelligible to students. The optional tenth grade course, Twentieth Century World, attempts to provide a study of events of the present century. The complexities of modern economic organization demand the teaching of government, economics, and communism in the twelfth grade.

Mathematics

John Marshall is striving to build a firm foundation of the mathematical principles by offering three tracks.

In the third track the General Mathematics 9 classes are using a text with a fresh new approach. These students work with sets and study number bases other than ten; they learn about the commutative, associative, and distributive laws in mathematics; and they put these properties to use. General Mathematics 10, 11, and 12 build on what has been learned in the first year. The Arithmetic 12 class works harder on reading and stating equations correctly.

The second track starts with algebra in the first year, placing greater emphasis on proof. The second year covers plane geometry. Third year students take Algebra 11, an extension of Algebra 9. In their senior year the students have trigonometry and either college algebra or solid geometry.

The advanced placement students begin algebra in the eighth grade and study plane and solid geometry together in the sophomore year, thereby having an extra year in which they delve into analytics and calculus.

Science

To keep abreast of the times, the Science Department has made several changes in its offerings. There is a new twelfth grade physics course called PSSC, Physical Science Study Committee. The emphasis in this class is on exploring and discovering physical concepts through the use of films, challenging laboratory experiments, and a specially written text. A new approach to biology is offered in a course called BSCS, Biological Sciences Curriculum Study, which is an alternate of the regular tenth grade biology. Serious laboratory investigations form the basis of classroom study.

The other science courses are being updated. Astronomy, earth science, and chemistry—the ninth grade sciences—include more laboratory work dealing with basic techniques. For students who are not on the college preparatory program and who have been unsuccessful in biology, there is a new tenth grade course in physical science. Some chemistry and some physics form the basis of this class. The regular eleventh grade chemistry involves much laboratory work, and emphasis is placed on the development of concepts. Additional chemistry on the college level is pursued by those students on the advanced placement program.

Languages

The Foreign Language Department offers Latin, German, Russian, and two romance languages: French and Spanish. Fluency in speaking the language, grammar and composition, and an understanding of the culture of the people are stressed. Although a language may be begun in any grade, no credit is given unless the language is studied for at least two years.

An experimental class in French, "Voix et Images," is being taught again this year. The students concentrate on pronunciation and the understanding of words and phrases without translation into English. Grammar is learned by usage rather than by memorization of rules. Selected students may take another special course in French beginning in the seventh grade. The purpose of this course is to provide a longer sequence of study. There is also a new class in fifth year Latin. This advanced placement group, which studies the ancient classics, does work on the college level.

The well-equipped language laboratory—containing tapes, records, and thirty-six booths—offers the students an opportunity to improve their pronunciation and oral comprehension.

Art

The beginning art student takes a survey course. This is to give him knowledge of all fields of art so he may choose the one best suited to his own personality. In the second year he is free to choose between jewelry, ceramics, crafts, and oil painting.

For the advanced student a program of independent research and work is available. Some of these pupils are selected to do the art work for the MARSHALLITE, the MONOCLE, display cases, pep rallies, sporting events, the operetta, both proms, and to print hundreds of posters each year. A few exceptionally talented artists have their work accepted by the Valentine Museum.

Music

The Music Department consists of a girls' chorus, a choir, an orchestra, and a cadet band.

The girls' chorus is made up of ninth grade students and other first year vocal students. Members of the choir are tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders who have had vocal training. Previous experience is also necesary to join the orchestra or band.

The orchestra, choir, and chorus participate in assembly programs and play an important role in the annual operetta. The cadet band contributes to school spirit by playing at pep rallies and football games.

Business

In the Business Department a student may concentrate on one of three fields of endeavor as follows: stenographic, bookkeeping, and clerical or VOT. Typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, general business, and business arithmetic are taught along with clerical practice, secretarial practice, and vocational office training. Stenographic students learn typing, shorthand, filing, and spelling. Bookkeeping students learn how to budget money and keep accounts, while clerical students study office machines and filing. A student is qualified to hold a job after completing any one of these courses.

Work Co-ordinators

The co-operative training programs—Distributive Education, Vocational Office Training, Industrial Cooperative Training—teach pupils job skills, human relations, and economic understanding. Students during their junior and senior years have an opportunity to be placed in entrance jobs of the business world to receive supervised training which is co-ordinated by the school. A large faculty of down-town teachers cooperate in giving industrial, retailing, and office training.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department provides an opportunity for students to learn the practical application of processes and products directly related to our changing world. The development of skillful handling of instruments, machines, and materials is the aim of this program. Students are given a basic education in a variety of fields: woodworking, metalworking, electricity, mechanics, and drafting—a new class. A sound foundation is provided for an intelligent occupational choice, as well as some degree of experience which is desirable for employment.

Home Economics

The Home Economics Department prepares students for making intelligent decisions concerning family problems. Emphasis is placed on the personal and economic aspects of home life.

Each year the pupils study foods, nutrition, clothing, and textiles. In addition, freshmen learn about family relations and how to make a safe and attractive home. The students are taught child development and care of the sick in the sophomore year. As juniors they delve into financial management procedures and interior decoration. Seniors take up marriage preparation along with other topics.

The required courses taken in the freshman and sophomore years include calisthenics; seasonal sports such as football, hockey, basketball, and volleyball; and workouts on the apparatus in the auxiliary gymnasium. These are supplemented by classroom instruction and physical fitness tests. In addition, ninth grade boys and girls are taught driver education; and tenth grade girls study first aid.

Military

The John Marshall Corps of Cadets was organized under the National Defense Cadet Corps Act. This military system fosters punctuality, order, discipline, and respect for authority, while maintaining high standards of honor, personal appearance, and self-respect. A four year course of study is offered in the following: leadership, drill, courtesies, discipline, marksmanship, first aid, and map reading. Such instruction instills in the cadets those qualities which produce outstanding citizens and leaders. The goal of every hard-working cadet is to strive for self-improvement and to live by the motto of the corps: Duty—Honor—Country.

Student Cooperative Association

On an experimental basis the SCA established an Inter-Club Council composed of club presidents. Each month the Council placed a calendar in the front hall showing school events. The SCA also published two pamphlets entitled "Traditions of John Marshall" and "A Sense of Humor."

Other activities included co-ordinating a PTA program; presenting Thanksgiving, Christmas, and AFS assemblies; and serving as host school for the Virginia SCA Convention. A campaign was conducted to secure homes for the 500 visiting students.

Using the phrase, "Launch the Leapin' Leprechaun," the SCA sponsored a drive for $1,000 for next year's AFS student. Inviting foreign students from area schools, having homeroom competition, and sponsoring a sock hop created enthusiasm for the fund-raising week.

Sans Souci

Sans Souci enjoyed a successful year, having slides of France and guest speakers at the meetings. In the homecoming parade the club entered a car decorated with appropriate propaganda in French. Several members sang "Dominique" in the GAA talent show. At the Christmas party members sang carols, ate homemade cookies, and listened to speakers discuss Christmas in their countries. Sans Souci also sponsored a magazine containing the work of students in French classes. The club tried hard to fulfill its purpose of making French more interesting for its students.

Deutscher Klub

For the members of Deutscher Klubs I, II, and III, this was a year of many exciting events. Having a bake sale, sponsoring a family at Thanksgiving and Christmas, taking part in the JM-TJ parade, performing in the talent show, and contributing to the American Field Service drive were some of the year's activities.

Programs were both entertaining and educational. At club meetings well-known speakers, German records, movies, and slides made time fly.

SPQR

SPQR, the Latin Club, expanded to three groups this year: Cicero, Vergil, and Horace. Composing the newly-formed Horace Club were members of the fifth year Latin class, the first in the history of John Marshall. All three groups were members of the Junior Classical League.

During the year various distinguished speakers lectured and showed slides on Roman culture at the meetings, held every other Monday. In addition the clubs participated in such festive activities as the Roman Banquet complete with slaves, wrestling, and a costume contest. Hanover Wayside was the scene of the spring picnic, which ended the year's activities.

The club also entertained a Cuban girl who spoke on her life in Cuba and a college student who told of her work with the Mexicans. In the spring the club presented a program for the student body in which a university professor spoke on the Cuban situation.

When the school year ended several members prepared to travel to Mexico to broaden their understanding of our sombrero friends "south of the border."

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y is a voluntary service organization sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association and is composed of thirty-three boys interested in the international Hi-Y movement.

As a part of this year's activities, the club distributed the faculty's "Critical Thinking" brochure. The club also had a car-wash, attended the Eastern Virginia District Hi-Y Conference, and sponsored Christian Emphasis Week during which Mr. George Ritchie, MD. spoke at an assembly on "Truth for Youth." The members participated in the Richmond Hi-Y Basketball League and for the Senior-Junior Prom became florists—making quality corsages at reduced rates. In the spring the Hi-Y was represented at the Model General Assembly, which met at the State Capitol in Richmond.

."Let's send TJ to the morgue," yell members of the Hi-Y.

Key Club

The John Marshall Key Club, a service organization composed of 36 boys, met twice a month on Tuesday evenings at Second Baptist Church for dinner meetings. By sending two members each week to the Kiwanis Luncheon, the Key Club kept in touch with its sponsoring Kiwanis Club.

Distributing booklets of cheers at the Freshman Orientation and posters for the Richmond Tuberculosis Association, sponsoring the annual Football Appreciation Dance, and having a chorus line in the GAA Talent Show were some of the club's activities. As additional service projects they conducted a drive for the Salvation Army and sponsored a Key Club Brotherhood Week Assembly. They also had several fund-raising projects which included a doughnut sale, a car-wash, and a sale of Kiwanis Travelogue tickets. Other events included the Father-Son Banquet and the Mother-Son Banquet, both big successes.

The Key Clubbers also learned valuable information at the Capital District Convention on March 13-15 at the Hotel John Marshall.

Torch and Banner Club

The Torch and Banner Club, a school-sponsored girls' organization, was formed this year with objectives of promoting loyalty, school spirit, sportsmanship, and service to the school and community. Membership was open to sophomore, junior, or senior girls. Mrs. Eva Verelle and Miss Janice Harris served as faculty sponsors, and Steve Eggleston was chosen sweetheart.

TABS met every other Monday evening at the school to make plans for its projects and for the enjoyment of club members. The group participated in the parade at the JM-TJ football game and collected baskets of food, clothing, and toys for needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. During the Christmas holidays the group went caroling through the northside of Richmond. The club also took part in the January PTA program on extracurricular activities. In addition the Torch and Banner Club prepared a booklet of cheers and school songs to be distributed to the student body next year.

National Honor Society

Since the John Marshall Chapter of the National Honor Society received its charter in 1939, it has initiated 1,039 members.

The aim of the National Honor Society is to make good citizenship in high schools a matter of distinction. Its principles are broad enough to include in its roll of honor a wide variety of admirable young citizens.

To become a member of the John Marshall Chapter, a senior must have made at least an average of "B" for his whole high school career and must be recommended by the entire faculty for excellence in character, leadership, and service. Since the chapter is purely honorary, only students having completed the first semester of their senior year are eligible. Membership in the society is one of the greatest and most coveted honors to be won at John Marshall.

New members repeat the pledge of the society.

Published by a literary and a business staff, the MARSHALLITE is a record of the school year. The literary staff is responsible for the over-all plan of the book; and the business staff sells ads, underclass pictures, and subscriptions to finance the yearbook. In order to have a spring delivery, the students work in fourth and sixth periods and on Thursday night. They are assisted by Mrs. Verelle, Mrs. Burnett, and Mr. Irv Schatzle, a photographer.

This year the staff had a party celebrating the last deadline and a banquet in May. Two staff members were sent as delegates to SIPA in Lexington.

THE MONOCLE, the school newspaper, brings the news to students and teachers every other week. It is published by approximately thirty seniors who have taken journalism as juniors. The journalism class, or the "cub staff," publishes two issues of the newspaper each year. Miss Mary G. Lambert, faculty adviser, selects the staff, which is announced at the MONOCLE banquet in May.

The MONOCLE has always tried to meet the highest standards for high school newspapers. This year the MONOCLE received the Medalist Award and the International Honor Award from Quill and Scroll and a First Place Award from SIPA.

Once they held the city championship. Informal meetings are held regularly in which the members play chess and improve their skill.

Vocational Office Training

"Earning while learning" is the motto of Mr. Carl Jorgenson's Vocational Office Training Class. The VOT students attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon in a business office. Vocational Office Training affords actual work experience, helps the students prepare for a career, and teaches the correct use of business machines.

The opportunities for full-time employment upon graduation and early promotion make VOT advantageous to students. They gain not only confidence but also a feeling of satisfaction from working.

The DE club meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. This year the club had such activities as an Employer-Employee Banquet, District contests, a New-Member Picnic, State Leadership conferences, and many guest speakers.

The trip provided a thrilling climax to the club's study of city, state, and national government. Also Mayor Sheppard spoke to the group on city government and Richmond's plans for the future.

Among other activities the Young Americans saw the controversial movie, "Operation Abolition," concerning Communist methods of inciting student riots. Following this the group compiled a booklet on Communism, explaining its principles, tactics, progress, and failures.

International Relations

The International Relations Club, founded this year at John Marshall by Col. James F. Barrett, is made up of foreign students, students who have lived in other nations, and those who have traveled in other countries.

At their monthly meetings the members tried to fulfill the following purposes: to create a better understanding of other countries and their peoples, to develop an interest in the problems of the world and in possible solutions for some of those problems, to study the possiblities of co-operation among nations for peaceful change in the world, and to encourage good citizenship by helping its members keep informed about important national and international issues.

The Girls' Athletic Association offered activities for girls interested in such sports as horseback riding, hockey, basketball, bowling, apparatus, tennis, badminton, and swimming. The club also sponsored varsity and junior varsity teams in three sports: hockey, basketball, and tennis. Meetings were held every other Monday.

The annual GAA talent show, entitled "Roamin' Holiday," was held on December 7 and 14. This was the major fund-raising event of the year. The traditional May Day program was also directed by the GAA. At the year's end the new officers were announced at the annual picnic.

The Choir appeared at the Thanksgiving assembly, the Christmas assembly, an Easter concert, commencement, and a concert at Ginter Park Baptist Church.

The big event of the year was, as usual, the operetta. This year it was Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado." Two evening performances were given, as well as a matinee for elementary school children.

Parent-Teacher Association

"Mobilizing for Educational Excellence" was the theme for the John Marshall Parent-Teacher Association this year. Programs acquainted parents with the different phases of students' classroom work and extracurricular activities.

The PTA raised approximately $200 for the Central Virginia Educational Television Corporation. A PTA committee assisted the SCA in securing homes for delegates to the SCA Convention held at John Marshall on April 3-5.

John Marshall Athletic Club

The John Marshall Athletic Club began the year by building an enthusiastic membership to support and supplement the athletic program of the school.

On November 22, the club sponsored an awards banquet honoring the football players and cheerleaders. Trophies were presented to selected players and mementos were given to all of the cheerleaders.

During the basketball season, the club presented to the school appropriate banners extolling the prowess of former Justice basketball teams. The basketball and wrestling teams and the cheerleaders were recognized at a winter sports banquet held on March 21.

At the end of the school term, the club co-operated with the school in holding a spring sports rally and supplying awards for the baseball, track, and tennis teams.

Cadet Alumni Association

Eighteen years ago the John Marshall Cadet Alumni Association was organized to further the interests of the Corps of Cadets. During this time the club has sponsored many cadet projects. Last fall alumni assistance helped the corps purchase VMI style overcoats for the entire corps. A continuing project is the annual Cadet Memorial Scholarship, which has been given eleven times to deserving senior cadets.

General James C. Anthony, a former commandant and past president, led in the formation of the Richmond Corps of Cadets Association whose president is a former John Marshall first captain, W. Bryan Stockdon. Representatives from each of the city cadet units attend its quarterly dinner meetings at the YMCA.

Honor Court

Duty, Honor, Country are the inspiration for high standards and achievements of John Marshall Cadets.

The Honor System was patterned after the one at West Point. Each cadet is instructed in the meaning of honor, building trust, friendship, and loyalty. Every cadet learns honesty and truthfulness which fosters the high spirit and morale in the corps.

Whenever the honor or character of a cadet is at stake, efficient and immediate action is taken. The Honor Court decides if the case violates the Honor System and renders its decision accordingly.

General Committee

The General Committee is composed of the officers of the First, Second, and Third Classes. The total membership may not exceed eleven.

The main objective of the committee is to maintain the high standards which have built the corps. Cadets are brought before the General Committee for failure to uphold these standards. "Honor, Conduct, Appearance, Limits" are not just words to be memorized; The Corps Spirit emphasized by the committee instills cooperation and corps unity.

Recruit Court

The Recruit Court, an arm of the General Committee, was organized to instruct the Recruit class in cadet regulations and to administer corrective measures to recruits. These regulations have been designed to instill discipline and a high sense of honor into every new cadet early in his recruit year.

The recruits, the life-blood of the corps, are trained in cadet principles. Those who fail to live up to the requirements are referred to the court. If found guilty, they are assigned penalties. The court is composed of the two ranking members of the second class from each company.

Theakston, rifle team coach, instructed the team in firing from three positions: prone, kneeling, and standing. Practice was held twice a week at Bellwood Marine Reserve Armory. Twelve rifle matches were held during the year with George Wythe High School, Colonial Heights High School, West Point High School, University of Richmond freshmen, and William and Mary freshmen.

Coaching Staff

Pep talks, hard work, victory and defeat—these phrases each bring to mind a part of a coach's life. Who else but a coach would bear the brunt of a losing team's despair? Who else would spend long afternoons after school in preparation for a big game? The coach's main duty is to teach his team the importance of good sportsmanship. The success of John Marshall's teams in this respect is evidence of a job well done.

Varsity Football

The John Marshall Justices began a 3-7 season when they tackled George Wythe at City Stadium. Despite the fine running of Bob Pryor and the passing of Wayne Linkous, the Bulldogs defeated the team. After losing to Petersburg, Jayem bounced back with its first win, defeating Henrico as a result of a team effort. Fumbles recovered by Justices Billy Finnegan, Tommy Gibbs, Irvin Hutcherson, and Ray Dark resulted in touchdowns by Pryor, Steve Fornash, and Larry Koch. The following week saw a repeat performance with Jayem defeating Highland Springs. Among the standouts in this game were Stuart Orr, Larry Whiting, and Earl Patterson. With Gene Hare intercepting two passes and David Newcomb's accurate placements, the Justices beat Manchester for their third consecutive win. For the rest of the season, John Marshall seemed to lose some of its spark and lost to Hermitage, Douglas Freeman, Hopewell, and Thomas Dale. The year ended with Thomas Jefferson defeating the Justices in spite of the boost given to the team by the outstanding punting of Johnny Huffman.

Coaches Anderson and Hollingsworth anxiously confer with Coach Putney over the phone.

Junior Varsity Football

The Jayvee team began the season by trouncing the rival Thomas Jefferson team. Touchdowns came from Barry Maher, Michael Bradley, and John Ashe. Ashe's 85-yard touchdown run on a kickoff return paved the way to victory over Douglas Freeman. Losses to George Wythe, Thomas Dale, and Highland Springs followed. The next week the Baby Justices played Manchester to a tie, in spite of another Maher-Ashe touchdown. The 3-3-1 season ended on a victorious note with the freshmen on the team beating Albert Hill. Maher caught a pass from Jim Pendergraph which resulted in the winning touchdown. During the year the team received help at crucial moments from Walter Ralston, Roger Nicholls, Jeb Dyson, Tommy Collier, Jim Wheeler, and Meade Farmer.

The Justices began the season with a characteristically close win over George Wythe, in which Mac Thompson was the deciding factor. The next week the Justices lost their first game at the hands of Freeman's experienced team. With Paul Kirby, Massie Childress, and Thompson scoring in double figures, the team rolled over the Springers. Manchester, with the advantage of height, took Jayem in a game in which Steve Fornash excelled by stealing the ball seven times. John Philbrick sparked the team to overcome a first quarter deficit and Massie Childress led the second quarter attack in the victory over previously undefeated Hermitage. Wins over Hopewell, Lane, Petersburg, and Teejay followed.

After a heart-breaking one-point loss to George Wythe, the team was handed their fourth loss by Douglas Freeman. The next week Jayem had little trouble defeating the Springers. In the game which broke Hermitage's winning streak, Earl Patterson contributed fine assistance. Tying a school record, Massie Childress scored 50 points in a decision over Lane. In the next game, the team slipped past Petersburg in overtime with a basket by Wynn Howell. To end a 12-4 season, the team again defeated Teejay.

The jayvee basketball team opened a season of close games with a two-point victory over George Wythe. Ronnie Jackson and Victor Gregg were high scorers. The next week Douglas Freeman won by two points. Then the boys beat Highland Springs by a wide margin and went on to defeat Manchester. After an unexpected loss to Hermitage, they won decisively over Hopewell and then were beaten by Lane, Petersburg, and Thomas Jefferson. The Baby Justices lost to Wythe in overtime, although Gregg, Barry Maher, David Newcomb, and Jackson scored in double figures. In the next game, Douglas Freeman came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the team. Victories over Highland Springs and Hermitage were followed by a loss to Petersburg. Ending the 7-8 season, the jayvees beat rival TJ.

The Jayem wrestlers had a 3-6 record this season. The victories came over Colonial Heights, 29-21; Thomas Jefferson, 27-21; and Prince George, 36-16. There were also matches with St. Christopher's, Douglas Freeman, and the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind, located in Staunton, Virginia.

Some of the outstanding wrestlers were Terry Cox, A. C. Taylor, Mike Brown, and Jimmy Cowardin. After winning fourth place in the regional tournament, Cox attended the state wrestling championship matches.

Track

With eleven returning lettermen the 1964 track team looked forward with optimism to improving the 1963 record. Coach Buddy Gregory's thinclads were led by co-captains Richard Howe, a fine half-miler, and Larry Koch, an outstanding sprinter. Other lettermen expected to perform well were sprinters John Hutcherson, Whiting, and Finnegan; hurdlers Hare and Hutcherson; jumpers Huffman, Hare, and Selden; and distance runner Cox. The leading newcomers were Pryor, a dashman, and Townsend, hurdler. Monaghan, Mahoney, and Hunter and Tarbet added strength in the high jump, 440, and distances, respectively. Lawton and Acree gave promise as weightmen.

Gene Hare, Dick Howe, and Norris Townsend clear the high hurdles.

Bob Pyror and Larry Koch start a practice sprint.

Dick Howe enjoys running the half-mile (in practice).

Baseball

Led by captain Steve Fornash, the Justices were short on experience, since the only other lettermen were third baseman Johnny Huffman, pitcher Wynne Howell, and James Childress, a hard-hitting left fielder. The pitchers were led by Howell, Bowles, Moritz, Bradley, and Cox. Handling the catching were Gibbs and Ray Dark, a freshman showing a lot of promise. Fornash held down first base; and Moritz, second base. Newcomb was shortstop. Herby Campbell took care of center. Right field was divided among Taylor, Linkous, and Gibbs. Lipscomb, Rosseau, and Colgin were utility infielders.

Charles Rosseau calls the balls as Wynne Howell hurls a fast one.

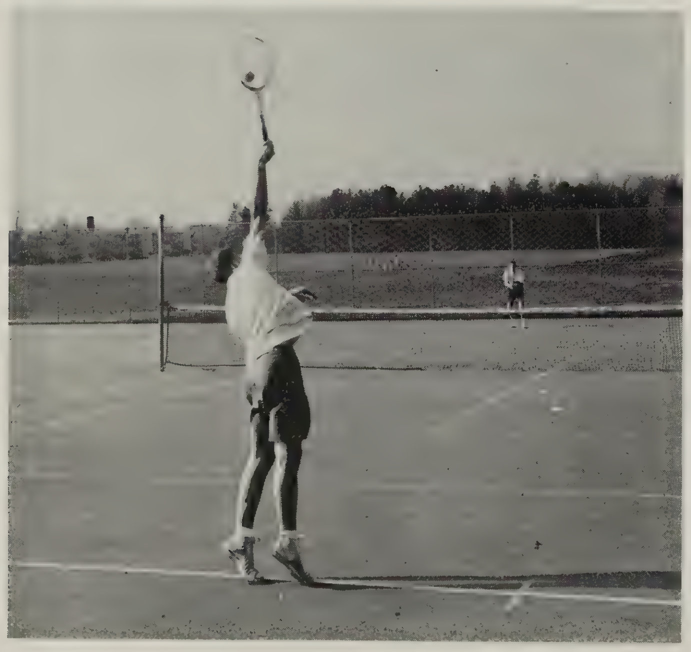
Tennis

This year's team had five returnees—John Philbrick, Pete Boggs, William Brown, Mac Thompson, and Steve Eggleston—who played in the top positions last year. Bill Tucker and Johnny Brunner had also had varsity experience. The desire to improve the team as a whole and also as individuals stemmed from the boys' coach, Walter Fowler. The team looked forward to a successful nine-match season.

John Philbrick serves to Pete Boogs.



Mac Thompson volleys to John Brunner while Bill Tucker waits in reserve.

Varsity Hockey

With five letter-girls on the team and the aid of Marguerite Elliott, AFS student, the Lady Justices began the season in a tie-game with George Wythe. The next two games brought two victories. Following this the Lady Justices were defeated by Collegiate, Hopewell, and St. Catherine's. On November 23 at an annual hockey tournament, John Marshall's stickgirls beat Collegiate and Thomas Jefferson and tied with Hopewell. Jo Ann Klein, captain of the varsity team, was placed on the first honorary team, and Carol Reese, left halfback, was placed on the second team at the tournament.

Junior Varsity Hockey

John Marshall's Junior Varsity team was handicapped this year by the loss of veteran players, most of whom moved to the Varsity team. Although the only game won was with Hopewell, the team felt that the experience gained outweighed their losses. Many players who were anxious to learn more about techniques and rules of the game were chosen to attend hockey camp this summer.

Girls' Tennis

This year the Girls' Tennis teams began practicing in March so they would have more game experiences and situations. Because of the bad weather, the girls were forced to practice inside, playing with each other to improve their playing. Moving up from the JV team were Judy Sylvia, Betty Slipek, and Jo Carol Sale. New players were Lisa Thompson, Betsy Marks, and Mary Alice Fleming.

Basketball

The Lady Justices were sparked this year by the return of four lettergirls: Carol Reese, Lucy King, Lucy Rose, and Joyce Williams. High scorers were Lucy King and Lucy Rose. Under the coaching of Miss Helen McKenney, the varsity team closed the season with a record of three wins and five losses.

Under a new system the junior varsity team was divided into two groups. Linda Wooten led the sophomore team, and Gayle Howard led the freshman team. Whenever substitution was in order, either all sophomores or all freshmen would play.

Varsity Cheerleaders

After practicing twice a week during the summer, the varsity cheerleaders made their first appearance on Orientation Day. They cheered at all football and basketball games, held pep rallies before many of these games, and also participated in other activities, including a PTA program and an Honor Rally before exams. The squad worked hard to raise school spirit and to promote good sportsmanship.

During a time out, the yell-leaders cheer the team to victory.

After practicing long and hard during the summer and every Wednesday after school, the junior varsity cheerleaders were prepared for their first game. Excitement ran high as most of the girls were cheering for the first time. Among the memories never to be forgotten are the parties, banquets, and trips to other schools.

Besides cheering at all pep rallies and JV games, the squad presented a skit at the rally before the TJ game.

ACTIVITIES

Marguerite Elliott

A bit of Scotland came to Jayem this year via Marguerite Elliott, our second AFS student. Besides playing hockey and participating in the German and International Relations Clubs, she was an honorary member of the Torch and Banner Club. Serving on the SCA Executive Committee, she supported many school projects.

Marguerite was always present at athletic and other school events. Her bright smile and quick wit will long be remembered by Marshallites.

Lucy teaches Marguerite guitar chords.

At the Thanksgiving Assembly, Marguerite reads the Scripture.

Homecoming

For the thirty-sixth time in the history of John Marshall, the Justices faced the Jeffs in the annual homecoming game.

During halftime the crowd was entertained by the traditional parade of cars and floats, decorated by various school organizations, and band formations on the field. Students cheered as Mary Halda, last year's homecoming queen, crowned Nancy Long Miss Justice 1963-64.

"The Stompers" provided the music for the Key Club Football Appreciation Dance, held the night of the game. During intermission, Caroline Garrett, Key Club Sweetheart, presented the Most Valuable Player Trophy to Larry Koch.

At the annual homecoming pep rally, Coach Hollingsworth encourages the team and the students.

The Crusty Minstrels sing their version of "Five Hundred Miles."

Veterans' Day

Three rifle volleys cracked the crisp air. Taps echoed from both ends of the front lawn. The students assembled to salute John Marshall graduates who gave their lives in combat.

Dr. Ben L. Rose, professor at Union Theological Seminary, gave the address. Selections by the band concluded the ceremony.

Thanksgiving

Selections by the choir and orchestra opened the annual Thanksgiving Assembly. Students were reminded of the many blessings for which they should be thankful when Dr. Dixon and Mr. Wiltshire delivered the Thanksgiving messages.

Observing a John Marshall tradition, homerooms and clubs decorated and filled food baskets for the needy.

Boys' and Girls' State

Last summer John Marshall sent representatives to Boys' and Girls' States. These representatives, chosen by the faculty and students of the junior class, were sponsored by local American Legion Posts. They were selected on the basis of grades, leadership, abilities, and citizenship.

In addition to elections and government activities, the students enjoyed athletics and entertainment. The highlight of this week-long event was the Governor's Ball.

"I'm a flakes man myself," says crispy critter Tim Quilter as Johnny Frischkorn, Archibald Slinkbetter, questions him.

Talent Show

"Roamin' Holiday," narrated by students who have lived or traveled abroad, was the theme of the annual GAA talent show, presented on December 7 and 14.

Folk music scored high as five groups presented a hootenanny. The Key Club did the can-can, and the French Club street singers sang "Dominque." Other acts included Archibald Slinkbetter and the kids, a traditional dance of India, skits, and voice and piano solos.

Arnold Gideon, Eve Thompson, Marguerite Elliott, and Jerry Carr narrate the 1964 talent show.

While the audience sings the band song, the entire cast appears on stage for the finale.

Christmas

Excitement filled the school during the week before Christmas. Language students practiced songs of other lands, while pupils in the Home Economics Department decorated their rooms with ornaments.

The office displayed a tree, greeting cards, and a banner made by the IBM machine. A laughing Santa Claus surprised the teachers with candy canes.

The Christmas Assembly, presented by the Music Department and Senior Class, climaxed the week. In addition to the carols performed by the choir and orchestra, several students read appropriate poems and scriptures. On the last day, tunes sung by the choir echoed through the halls.

In the Christmas Assembly Mr. Charles Cooke directs the a cappella choir.

Sweating and straining, Hi-Y and Key Club members vie for the ball.

"Over here!" yells Tom Gill to his teammate in an exciting moment of the game.

Key Club — Hi-Y Game

On the fateful afternoon of March 6, the Key Club and the Hi-Y clashed in a rip-roarin' basketball game. Although the Hi-Y emerged victorious, the Key Club put up a good fight. Larry Whiting, scoring 20 points, led the Hi-Y to a 46-37 victory. The Clubbers presented keen competition with Tom Gill, who totaled 14 points. Supported by students, glamorous cheerleaders for each team chanted original cheers. Proceeds from the tickets went to the AFS drive.

"Key Club's great, Key Club's swell. We're gonna' give the Hi-Y trouble!"

Selected by the senior class to reign as king and queen of the Senior-Junior, Beth Griffin and Mac Thompson are crowned by Nancy Long and Steve Fornash, last year's royal pair.

Senior-Junior Prom

Snowflakes and ski slopes set the scene as seniors presented "Winter by Night" in honor of the junior class. Saturday morning, juniors snoozed as sleepy seniors slaved, sweeping sawdust and stardust into the gym.

Music was provided by the sensational Jammin' Jammers, a local combo. During intermission Beth Griffin and Mac Thompson were crowned King and Queen to reign over the gala affair. The Hi-Y pulled "K. P." duty in the cafeteria serving drinks.

Uninhibited dancers go wild.

Launch the Leap

Dollar signs were in the eyes of Marshallites in March as they "Launched the Leapin' Leprechaun" for next year's American Field Service Student. Spurred onward by the speeches of Marguerite Elliott and Mrs. Wade Boggs and free tickets to a basketball game for the most generous homeroom, the students raised over $800.

With contributions from service clubs, proceeds from the Key Club-Hi-Y basketball game, and profits from a soc hop, the school topped the $950 mark.

Janet Parrish, a member of the Executive Committee, moves the Leapin' Leprechaun nearer the goal of $1,000.

During the assembly, Mrs. Boggs, President of the John Marshall AFS Chapter, explains the background of the AFS.

On the way to first period, homeroom presidents drop contributions into Wayne Parrish's money bag.

May Day

As the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" echoed through the North court, the 1964 May Court glided down the walk. Upon reaching the platform the court formed a semi-circle around the royal throne. Queen Betty Matthews and Maid of Honor Blair Hughes reigned over festivities consisting of a gymnastics program concluded by the traditional May Pole dance.

A short concert presented by the Cadet Band preceded the ceremonies.

Operetta

A Japanese courtyard was the setting for "The Mikado," presented this year by the choir, orchestra, and art department. Nanki-Poo and Yum-Yum, portrayed by Ernie Stinson and Shirley Beaty, were supported by Ginny Minasian as Katisha, Ronnie Cooke as Ko-Ko, John Dunville as the Mikado, Kathleen Ward as Pitti-Sing, Nancy Long as Peep-Bo, David Dunville as Pooh-Bah, and Wally Scherer as Pish-Tush.

Charles "Geisha-Girl" Cooke daintily (?) demonstrates his method of handling a fan.

The many work-filled afternoons of Shirley and Ernie resulted in excellent performances.

"Good luck," smiles Beth Griffin as she gives Wayne Linkous a miniature football on the day before the homecoming game.

Students and cheerleaders give a standing ovation to the team.

Pep Rallies

Vivacious cheerleaders, energetic students, and a lively band characterized the pep rallies of the past year. The student body enthusiastically backed their teams during both football and basketball seasons. "Jayem, Jayem, best team in the land!" echoed through the gym when students cheered the team to victory. Marshallites will long remember those Friday morning rallies with the zany skits and the boys' pep talks.

Morning pep rallies bring the spirited sounds of the marching band through the halls and into the gym.
